

Royal Navy

From Magnus O'Mahony - Beech Class (Churchfields)

Magnus' Great, Great Uncle Angus was in the Royal Navy during WW2 and he was torpedoed.... that means his ship was sunk by a German submarine ... these submarines were called U- boats.... he was picked up by another Royal Navy ship and taken to hospital so he could get better. When V.E day came he left hospital and travelled all the way to his home on the Isle of Lewis. Everyone in the village he came from were so pleased to welcome home all the soldiers, sailors and airmen that had survived the war. They had a huge party in the village hall, they call these parties ceiledhs and for the first time in over 3 years Angus had his favourite meal, herring and potatoes. He was so happy to be back home safe and sound.
