DAY 3 - Resource 3A:

“Uh-oh,” Bradley said. “Here come those girls again. Try not to say hello to them.”

“Hello, Jeff,” said Lori.

“Hello,” said Jeff.

“Hi,” said Melinda.

“Hi,” said Jeff.

“Hi, Jeff,” whispered Colleen.

“Hi,” whispered Jeff.

Lori laughed as the three girls walked away.

Jeff shrugged. “I can’t help it,” he said sadly.

“Let’s go beat them up!” said Bradley. “Then they won’t say hello to you anymore.” He started after them, but Jeff didn’t follow. “C’mon,” Bradley urged. “Girls are easy to beat up. You just have to hit them once, and they cry and run away.”

DAY 3 - Resource 3B: Activity 3B.1

Using the text above, write a list of 5-6 rules we have for writing speech or dialogue. Remember to check your work against the answer sheet at the bottom of this document.

Clues:

Activity 3B.2

Can you correct this piece of dialogue? There are 6 mistakes in total.

“Not now, said Jeff.

“why not?” asked Bradley

“Everyone will see us. We’ll get in trouble” answered Jeff.

“You’re right. Let’s get them after school.” Said Bradley.

Activity 3B.3

Write a conversation, using at least 5 lines of dialogue, between Bradley and Jeff.

This is your starting line:

“Hey Jeff. Why are you hanging out with that lot?” asked Bradley.

Resource 3C: Answers for Resource 3B

Activity 1 possible answers

1. Each new character's speech starts on a new line.
2. Speech is opened with speech marks.
3. The speech starts with a capital.
4. The speech ends with a comma, exclamation mark or question mark.
5. After the punctuation (comma, exclamation mark or question mark), you need to close the speech with speech marks.
6. Write who said it and then use a full stop.

Activity 2 answers

“Not now,” said Jeff.

“Why not?” asked Bradley .

“Everyone will see us. We’ll get in trouble,” answered Jeff.

“You’re right. Let’s get them after school,” said Bradley.

DAY 4 - Resource 4A: Organising an argument

Sort the arguments into two columns. The first column is for evidence that shows Jeff was right, and should ditch Bradley, and the second column is for evidence that Jeff was wrong, and shouldn’t ditch Bradley. You may want to add some of your own ideas to these columns too.

(Two have been done already as an example)

Challenge: Put the arguments in order of what you think is the strongest argument for and against Jeff ditching Bradley.

Bradley is glad to finally have a friend. Friendships are really important for people. Children don’t just learn from

Jeff could teach Bradley to be more polite. For example, he has already taught him that whenever anyone says

Bradley suggests doing things that make Jeff uncomfortable; for example, going into the girls’ bathroom. Friends should

adults. They need to have positive friendships in their lives.	'hello' it's polite to say hello back to them.	support you and not make you do things that you know are wrong.
Jeff is a positive influence on Bradley. Bradley is thinking about doing their homework together which shows that he is starting to open up. If Jeff is friends with him, Bradley might start trying harder with his work.	Robbie and the other boys call Jeff 'Fishnose'. Are they any better than Bradley?	Bradley once threatened to spit on Jeff and took money off him. He also wants to get into fights with the girls. This is aggressive behaviour and Jeff should play with other children that won't make him be mean.
Jeff is a young boy and shouldn't have the responsibility of changing another child's behaviour. That is the responsibility of teachers, counselors and parents.	Bradley is really fun, and he shows a lot of kindness when he plays with his toys. If Jeff gives him another chance, then he could have a great, fun, kind friend for life.	Bradley doesn't want Jeff to have other friends. It is important for Jeff to have other friends that share his interests, such as basketball. People shouldn't feel like they can only have one friend.
Bradley told his mum that Jeff had hit him.	Everyone deserves a second chance. If you're kind to people, they are often kind back. It can take time, but it is worth it over all.	Brian and Robbie are rude to Bradley and Jeff joins in. Will they have a negative influence on him?

Day 5 - Resource 5A: Converting informal to formal language

Activity 1

Can you match up these informal words to their formal synonyms?

cruel

mean insufficient

silly

reject

job.

lose

inappropriate

chance

profession

good

sacrifice

not enough

opportunity

Activity 2

Can you convert this informal writing into a more formal text? Use the help sheet below and your work from Activity 1 to help you.

I think Jeff should ditch Bradley because Bradley has been mean to him in the past. Also, he wants to do silly things like going into the girls' bathroom which makes Jeff feel weird. In her job as a counsellor, Carla should be helping Bradley and Jeff should give up on their friendship.

But I think he shouldn't ditch him because Bradley deserves a second chance. And Bradley does have a good heart and deep down he wants to do the right thing. And I believe Bradley hasn't had enough good friendships to help him have confidence.

Here are 5 help rules to help you to write formally:

- 1) Formal writing does not usually use apostrophes for omission; for example, 'would have' instead of 'would've'
- 2) Formal writing is often written in impersonal language; for example, instead of saying 'I believe' you might say 'Many people believe', 'some people suggest' or 'other people argue that'
- 3) Formal writing uses formal language- see Activity 1 for examples
- 4) Formal writing often uses conjunctions to link points. Instead of 'and' or 'also' you can use 'furthermore', 'in addition', or 'moreover' and instead of 'but' you can use 'however', 'on the other hand' or 'in contrast'. Instead of 'because' you can try 'due to the fact that'.

OPTIONAL ANSWER for Activity 2

Many people believe that Jeff should reject Bradley due to the fact that Bradley has threatened him previously. Furthermore, he wants to do inappropriate actions such as going into the girls' bathroom which makes Jeff feel uncomfortable. In addition to this, in her profession as a counsellor, it is Carla's responsibility to help Bradley. Jeff should sacrifice their friendship for his own wellbeing.

On the other hand, some people suggest that Bradley deserves another opportunity to improve his behaviour. Moreover, they argue that Bradley is a kind boy who, deep down, wants to do the right thing. Other people argue that Bradley has had insufficient positive friendships to improve his confidence.
